

Out with the Old and in with the New

The old nursing station ceased operations this morning at 8 a.m. In service, with a variety of additions and renovations, since 1969, replacement of this facility has been on the municipal and territorial agenda since the late 1980s. A replacement plan was first proposed in 2000, but not developed in full until 2009.

The new hospital's history has been fraught with problems, including noisy public debates about its location, name, design and siding, not to mention having the original contractor default on the project. While it is late opening, most people were happy to attend the opening ceremonies on December 7. It opened for business this morning at 8 a.m.

The path to World Heritage Status has had its ups and downs

Last issue I introduced you to the idea that the Klondike is under consideration to become a UNESCO World Heritage Site. This is a public discussion that began in 1997, during the Gold Rush Centennials. The discussion has been simmering – on and off the burner - ever since.

When Parks Canada finally succeeded in getting their proposal on to Canada's tentative list of sites in 2004, it was recorded in the "cultural" category as opposed to the "natural".

Parks felt that two of the cultural criteria applied to the Klondike, and expanded the idea to include the long

ICOMOS defines in this way.

"Outstanding Universal Value means cultural and/or natural significance which is so exceptional as to transcend national boundaries and to be of common importance present and future generations of all humanity."

Parks intended their nomination to be a transboundary proposal that would include selected areas connected to this theme and located between the Klondike and Skagway. The United States' National Park Service was enthusiastic about this concept but, for reasons now lost to history, Skagway's town council was not at that time, and so the proposal languished.

The heat under the pot was ago, was not in favour of pursuing the proposal. There were many folk who thought that might be the end of the process, because it certainly could not advance without TH support, but times change, councils change and opinions change.

Over the last few years the Tr'ondëk Hwëch'in have followed through on another portion of its Land Claims implementation process and produced a regional economic development plan. Looking more closely at World Heritage Status is an important part of that plan and so it is that TH - in collaboration with the City of Dawson, the Klondike Visitors Association, the Chamber of Commerce, the Dawson City

Statements such as this are intended to support the idea that a given area has what the International Council on Monuments and Sites (ICOMOS) would recognize as elements of Outstanding Universal Value, which

The Klondike Development Organization produced detailed a background study, but the road was not smooth.

As TH Deputy Chief Clara Van Bibber noted during August's Discovery supply, August, "... our First Nation is sometimes conflicted about celebrating the discovery of gold in our region. The initial find at Bonanza Creek kicked off an influx of newcomers to our home and changed our traditional way of life forever."

Next time I'll look at why anyone would want to get involved in this process.

This week is significant to this project as the working committee has been holding its second set of workshops to draft a statement of Outstanding Universal Value to guide the direction of the application, should decided to make one.

Uffish Thoughts: Penny wise and Pound foolish

By Dan Davidson

I've just written a cheque to the income tax folks. Given that's it for an amount that's under $20.00 I honestly can't see how they've managed to make any money at all on this transaction, but I'm not going judgment. to argue the point any further.

Revenue Canada decided audit the charitable contributions on my last income tax year. My bookkeeper tells me that I'm not the only Dawsonite so honoured. There seem to have been a lot of us lately. If it weren't for that bit of information I might wonder if I was being singled out for attention due to something I've written.

After all, the Harper Government and the ReformaTories general in have caused me to use up a fair amount of time, ink and newsprint over the last half charitable status. dozen years.

off that I was being a charitable wastrel, that caused them to drill down into my record of donations and discover that .0041747% of the donations I to decide that $40 worth of working papers for 2009 - were really worth while.

But, once again, I consider myself to have gotten off lightly. My experience with the Canada Revenue Agency is such that I know them to be incapable of admitting to an error in

This is the agency that spent three years pursuing the Literary Society of the Klondike (which publishes the Klondike Sun) for failing (so they said) to file proper documentation for the year 2009. We had the working papers, so we were quite sure our former bookkeeper had done the deed as faithfully as she ever did.

We received the third letter they sent us about this matter. The first two, which we never saw, were warnings. Had we seen them we could have avoided much pain. The third one removed our federal

It was pointed out to us, when But, no, I'm told that it's not we entered discussions with have proved that we sent it. I'm not sure what tipped them That the same thing was true of their two warning letters was something they didn't care to talk about.

There was a $500.00 fine to be paid and then we were had made were ineligible, but told we could reapply for I'm having trouble believing status. We sent them a cheque, that the time and effort it took and copies of all the related donations could not be accepted and we waited. They turned up in someone's unsorted inbox about half a year later. It is this, as much as anything, that convinces us they lost the original 2009 filing too. The cheque was too old to be cashed and I made them send it back to us so we would always be able to prove we had sent it.

> During the next 18 months or so we dealt with a very helpful fellow who guided us through a reapplication process and who was quite certain that we were on the right track to be reinstated. Certain documents had to be filled in and new copies of material they should already have had on file had to be submitted, but we did it all.

> Then the file was passed up the line to a more senior supervisor and we were informed that while we had satisfied all the requirements that had existed in 2009, the rules had been changed and we didn't qualify under the new ones.

> We appealed, and were denied. Not only that, but we were told that we would have to pay a "revocation tax" (really a penalty) which would have forced us to shut down our operations and wind up the society. The penalty was to be based on the total value of our assets.

> As it turned out, it had been a long time since this non-forprofit society had worried about its list of assets. Not being broke was all we ever worried about. We'd gone through a steady stream of computers and printers since that first Mac SE and the LaserWriter we started with, and it was time to remove all of them from our paperwork.

Having done that, it turned out that there was nothing in the office that had enough value to calculate a tax on. We filed the forms and, some months later, they admitted that we were correct.

So the paper continues, and I have learned, along with that old Beatles' tune, that there's very little point in arguing with the taxman.

I hope they enjoy my $18.61, but I doubt that it is worth the money they've spent to get it.

And this is OUR opinion

Re: "This is just my opinion" article printed in the Klondike Sun November 13th, 2013.

Dear Mr. Sider,

The Humane Society Dawson would like to thank you for sharing your opinion. In reading your opinion, we thought it would be of benefit to address some of the concerns/inaccuracies stated in your writing.

I will address your expressed concerns in the order they appeared in your article.

1. There is not enough room for 2 dogs and 20-30 would be utter chaos.

The Humane Society Dawson Dog Park sub-committee did the research and though 1.25 acres is definitely at the small end of the 'dog park scale' it is large enough to serve the purpose we believe the park will serve. If dogs are engaging in healthy social play and IF there is a dog or owner that is uncomfortable with the number of humans and animals present we recommend they do not enter into, or leave, the situation.

2. The dog park is an insult to loyal dog owners who like to ensure that their dogs get good, healthy exercise and lots of running about.

The Humane Society Dawson agrees that ALL dogs need good healthy exercise, and that it is up to the owner to provide that opportunity for the dog. The purpose of the dog park is to provide owners and dogs with a safe, legal area in town to socialize and play.

3. There are no places for larger dogs to play Frisbee or fetch.

It is not safe practice to use a ball, toy or treats in a dog park unless you are confident the use of such objects will not spark aggressive/possessive behaviour. First and foremost the dog park is a place for dogs to play with other dogs and owners safely.

4. Should incorporate a doggie playground.

The Humane Society Dawson is in the process of having agility equipment made (by people and businesses volunteering their time), and will be installed into the park next spring; with it will come agility classes. The Humane Society will be doing this to promote play and safe equipment use.

5. Discounts for city dog licenses.

The Humane Society Dawson does not have any involvement in the price or licensing of dogs in town.

The Humane Society Dawson is proud of all the hard work that went into developing and building our first Leash-free dog park. The sub-committee that proposed the dog park to the city did extensive research on dog parks, pros and cons.

The purpose of the dog park is to provide a safe and legal area of dogs and owners to socialize, exchange information on dog behaviour etc., and to create a responsible dog owner community. We recommend that your first visit be without your dog so that you are comfortable with the space before you introduce your dog to it. We strongly recommend that along with using the park, owners continue to walk their dog either on-leash along the 9th ave trail, the dyke, etc., or off-leash somewhere outside of the city limits for added exercise.

Prior to the 'leash-cutting' ceremony on October 26th, information sessions about how to safely and effectively use the park were given by the Humane Society. Though not confirmed, it is likely we will provide these information sessions again in the spring when use of the park will increase.

Having a well exercised and socialized dog benefits not only the owner but the entire community. The Humane Society is proud to be able to say we have helped create a dog park that will promote healthy and happy dogs if used properly.

Please feel free to contact the Humane Society Dawson (993-6900) with any questions or concerns you may have.

Respectfully,

To the editor:

"Fixing Canada's Housing Crunch"

Our council is joining the Federation of Canadian Municipalities' new national campaign to fix Canada's housing crunch. We're joining communities across Canada who are passing council resolutions and writing to members of the federal cabinet to ask them to help Canadians deal with the high cost of housing, their most urgent financial challenge.

One in four Canadians is now paying more than they can afford for housing, and mortgage debt held by Canadians stands at just over $1.1 trillion, putting our national economy at risk.

Canadians need a stable and secure housing market that creates and maintains jobs and allows for a range of living options. Cities and communities need better housing options to attract new workers, meet the needs of families, and support seniors and our most vulnerable citizens.

As it stands, $1.7 billion in annual federal housing investments are set to expire with the greatest drop, $500 million, slated for the next five years. This will put 200,000 Canadians at risk of losing their homes and will cause spillover effects on other parts of the housing sector. Our community has continuing housing needs, including the need for affordable rental accommodations, that would be helped with the kind of long-term planning and investment made possible by federal leadership.

We are inviting everyone who is concerned about this issue to visit www.fcm.ca/housingcrunch and voice your concerns. We hope service clubs, businesses and other community groups will involve their members in the issue and ask them to get in touch with their Member of Parliament and communicate the importance of continued federal investment in our community.

Sincerely, Mayor Wayne Potoroka

As if Dawson doesn't have enough drama

Story by Ryan Titus

Dawson has finally started its own Theatre Group.

The Theatre Group was created to open up a new opportunity for anyone, especially the youth. We were inspired by Youth Art Enrichment (YAE), an annual art program that happened last month.

The teachers of the team right now are Katie Pearce and Colleen Booth. The students so far are myself, Daniel, Noah, Livi, Tori and Lindsey. And the one who was motivated to create this artistic group is Heidi Warren.

This group gets together every Tuesday from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. (and on Fridays, but the time is not yet confirmed) at the Robert Service School.

Now let's talk about the spark that created the group. Last month during the YAE there were four categories - one of them being improv. Everyone in the group absolutely loved doing all of the activities they did in improv and they even did a performance at the Culture Centre for everyone who came that night.

Warren just loved the performance at the Culture Centre.

"It was an excellent way to spend a Saturday night," she said. "Most of it was funny, you get to see other sides of people, and it was really good and entertaining!'

Warren saw how much the students really enjoyed doing this, so she wanted it to be more than a one-time thing. Dawson used to do a lot of plays before with Betty Davidson, but I'm not sure if the school ever had a Theatre Group. So, starting this group has been a great opportunity for the community and so far the team is doing excellent work.

They will actually be performing in the annual Robert Service School Christmas Concert! The concert is on Thursday, December 10. Come on down and enjoy all of the performers!

Also, the team is looking for new members to join. Anyone of any age is welcome to join and participate in the activities they do. Contact Warren if you are interested.

Christmas Traditions in Bogota

Story & Photos By Anna Vogt

It has not snowed for years and years in Bogota, yet a feeling of Christmas still pervades the streets. One in particular, Calle 53, is in full Christmas spirit. On every corner, vendors sell rugs printed with garish Santa Clauses. Shop windows glisten with twinkle lights, trees and purple ornaments.

In contrast with the Caribbean coast where I used to live, which celebrates more on January 31, Bogota celebrates all of December with fervour. The official start of the holidays is on the 7th of December, when Colombians light candles in the streets and in public parks to welcome Mary on her journey. It is a night of celebration and of community.

Like in the Yukon, Christmas is a time to be spent with family and friends. However, in Colombia, instead of a turkey, Christmas cookies, stockings and ice skating, other traditions prevail. Yet across geographical divides, the most important things, food and family, remain central. People eat natilla (a type of flan or custard), deep fried balls of dough called bueñelos and grapes together. Colombia

Instead of toys, clothes new for the year are given first priority. 0n New Year's Eve, whole families walk around their block or neighbourhood, showing off their outfits planning and for the year ahead.

This year, there is an especially large sense of anticipation. As talks between the government and the guerrilla forces, the (Fuerzas Armadas FARC Revolucionarias de Colombia), continue, we hope for peace, not only in the Christmas season, but also for the future of this beautiful country. After over 50 years of internal conflict, the termination of fighting may,

Here is what I am hoping and working for in this next year. I want my friend Jorge, a community leader, to be released from jail where he is unjustly imprisoned. However, a real miracle will ot be only a signed piece of paper, but rather guaranteed and enforceable rights for all citizens. Just like walking around with a suitcase, now is the time to live out our

Dawson a "formidable opponent" at Yukon Volleyball Championships

Story by Daniel Titus

Last week Whitehorse held another fantastic Yukon Volleyball Championships! The participants and students that played were Grade 9 to 12, and of course our very own local stars joined up for the spiritual tournament of volleyball!

Mayo was there, Teslin was there, Dawson City was there, and the Porter Creek students of Whitehorse were also there since it took place at the Porter Creek Secondary School.

This great event took place during Thursday afternoon on November 28 to the afternoon of Saturday, November 30. The only reason to go was to see what teams were there as they represented their hometowns.

"Grade 8 made it to the Quarter Finals, which wasn't bad," said Heidi Warren, one of the coaches from Dawson and the coach of Grade 8 in the 9-10 division. "Overall they played very well and Dawson is becoming a formidable opponent to Whitehorse."

I couldn't agree anymore. Go Knights, go! I bet it was a crazy weekend for everybody and I hope everyone had an amazing I talked to some of the players from Dawson and they agreed it was a good time.

None of our teams got Gold or Silver, but they did their best, and hard work and sportsmanship earned the Senior Girls/ Boys Bronze.

"Everyone was awesome and played extremely competitively against the other teams," said Blake, a player in the Senior Boys division.

Now for the upcoming sports events: basketball season! Starting Thursday, December 5 the coaches will be taught by a national basketball coach in a 14-hour class. This is really exciting for Dawson's players!

Basketball won't be starting until after Christmas though, so if you're qualified to join start practicing now and go for it!

prevention initiatives within schools, traffic control, foot and bicycle patrols, festivals, search and rescue, to parades and other ceremonial events. In Yukon, the program falls under the Auxiliary Police Act which was established in 1998. "These men and women dedicate countless hours to their communities and to the detachments they support," Nixon added.

The RCMP Auxiliary Constable Program held its first training session in Yukon in October 1994 and will be celebrating its nineteenth anniversary next year. A total of 19 auxiliary volunteers currently serve in Whitehorse, Carmacks and Dawson City.

"These dedicated volunteers are bridge builders between police and the community and they are an incredible asset. They bring a wealth of information, local knowledge and assistance to police operations," Chief Superintendent Peter Clark, Commanding Officer of RCMP "M" Division said. "Yukon RCMP appreciates the Justice minister's ongoing support to grow this important program and recognize the dedicated individuals who volunteer so much time to support community safety across the territory."

Dawson turns out to support Philippine relief effort

story & Photos by Alice Thompson

The Panaligan Family started off the Food for a Cause Dinner held at the TH Hall on November 24th by singing the traditional Philippine song, "Heal our Land". Guitar and vocals, Jesse Panaligan, accompanied by his wife Arlene and daughters Jelene (far left) and Keziah (middle). Jesse Panaligan went on to entertain the crowd for most of the evening with his karaoke renditions of popular songs, revealing a wonderfully mellow and soulful singing voice.

Ayra Domingo sang a heartfelt rendition of "The Greatest Love of All" with surprising powerful vocal talent. Aura was happy to help with the benefit and spend time at a community event, as she was planning to leave for Aesthetics School in Toronto after the weekend.

Majalea Clemenbe Hoskisson (left) and Sheila Soliguen (right) and helpers cooked up a storm for the Dinner to benefit families & communities affected by Typhoon Haiyan. They produced an excellent spread of Filipino dishes such as Chicken Adoba and Filipino style Stir Fry and Chow Mein for a packed house. Dawson residents packed the TH Hall in support of the event, which raised a total of $6,300 from Dinner ticket sales, donations, and raffles. June Mathers and Tyler Mathers of the Dawson General Store were behind the buffet table lending a helping hand for the dinner, and also supplied much of the food and some donations for the raffles. Other support for the raffle was given by NIS, Han Construction, Bonanza Market and local artists.

Majalea Clemenbe Hoskisson posted additional details on Facebook later that evening, letting the community know that one of our locals, Don Dulotan received $2,550 to distribute to 9 related families and their community in the Philippines. The remaining funds will go to the Canadian-Filipino Association of the Yukon, where the collected money will be matched by the government of Canada: $1,606.15 will go to The Citizen's Disaster Response Center (CDRC), $1,150 to Bukas-Loob Sa Diyos Jaro District Philippines to buy primary needs to distribute directly to the communities, and $1,000 to GMA Network Kapuso Foundation Philippines for Rehabilitation purposes such as Housing and Schools.

An Odd Couple Played the Oddfellows Hall

Sarah MacDougall and C.R. Avery performed live at the Oddfellows Hall on November 23.

Near the end of a tour that saw them jump from Gabrioloa, Vancouver and Salt Spring islands to Vancouver itself and then north to the Yukon, Sarah MacDougall and C.R. Avery gave their penultimate performance at the Oddfellows Hall in Dawson on November

An odder match for a tour it would be hard to find.

MacDougall easily described in simple superlatives that seem a little too easy, but aren't. In this context she's a young woman who plays guitar very well and possesses a striking voice that jumps from a whisper to a full throated sound that hardly needs a microphone in a space the size of the ballroom. Fingering or strumming, she sets up a solid rhythm that complements her and piano, and lots of beat box folkish, thoughtful lyrics about situations and relationships. This is assisted by the fact that you can hear every word and follow the stories and the ideas.

She had the audience from the beginning of her set, but it was probably just as well that she went first, because C.R. Avery is a hard act to follow. If MacDougall is a fine example of the folksinger/ songwriter breed, Avery is both a throwback to the beat generation and a link to the beat of hip-hop and slam poetry culture.

People seemed to know what to expect from him, for they began to chuckle before he had done anything. He is variously described as an Outlaw Hip-Hop Harmonica Player and Beatbox Poet. His set included a reading from his book of poetry, songs accompanied by harmonica, guitar, banjo effects. His lyrics tended to be wry ironic commentaries on life, with more than a slight flavour of Ginsberg and Bukowski in them.

Both musicians have played Dawson before but not as a duo. They got together for the last two numbers of the evening. MacDougall taking the lead on the first while Avery backed her on harmonica. Then he tickled the Bechstein grand piano while the pair made a duet (with somewhat altered lyrics) on Leonard Cohen's "Passing Through".

Indications were that the evening was to conclude with a visit to the Westminster Pit and an attempt to enroll Avery in the Sourdough Cocktail Club at the Downtown Hotel.

The pair wrapped up this tour at the Old Firehall in Whitehorse the next night.

known as Miss Quincy, is used to introducing herself as a Northern around her right shoulder. Girl. After all, she hails The Showdown is a trio from Fort St. John and has spent quite a few years working as a camp cook for outfitters at locations a lot farther north than that, including some time with so the set we got to hear Blackstone Outfitters up in on November 26 was the Dempster country. She also has relatives living in Mayo, an aunt and uncle whom she was happy to see on this trip.

Slinging on her guitar in the nicely heated workshop at Happy Marmot Landscaping, she freely admitted that she really couldn't bill herself in quite the same way in Dawson City as she does south of the Fort.

Quincy usually Miss travels with her all-girl rock n' roll band The Showdown, but for her Home Routes Yukon Trail tour she was a duo, working with ace guitarist Noah Walker.

Noah used to travel with C.R. Avery, who played here just the week before, tours with other bands and also has his own band, the Broken Mirrors.

Miss Quincy is often described being as something like a blend of Jody Peck, otherwise Joan Jett and the Stones, an image not at all softened by the huge rose tattoo with her on lead, backed by drums, a standup base and lots of amplifiers. All of that was a bit much for a set of house concerts. probably a little bit quieter than her usual.

but it didn't leave your eardrums pounding either.

Aside from the fact that the pair of them provided very good quality for the price of admission, you had to notice that they were just plain having a lot of fun a scant two metres away from their audience, trading licks, facing each other for several classic guitar hero solo battles and having a real good time.

The Spell of the Yukon Winter

by Niall Fink
Edmonton, Alberta

I wanted some love and I sought it At the Pit Friday nights, dressed to kill. Was it her drink or my drink I bought it; I racked up one hell of a bill.

I wanted some love and I got it, Got lucky again this December. But somehow love's not what I thought it, Though you'd think that I would've remembered.

Oh it's the winter! (Ya been there?) It's the loneliest time that I know. Sometimes I wish I was a black bear, So I could just skip the whole show.

Some say they'll pick up a new hobby. They'll learn the guitar or tie flies, Maybe they can, but that's not me, Or, like, ninety percent of these guys.

You stay for EI--damned good reason! Or at least it would seem so at first. You think, "Well it's just for a season," And then you are one of the cursed.

It grips you like some kind of fever, When you're out at the Pit with some friends. In summer you'd take her or leave her, But come winter those twos turn to tens.

I've stood in that wavy-floored tavern, Which was stuffed full of dudes to the gills, And I've watched a big, husky old slattern, Drooled on by seven such males,

'Till all hell broke loose: smashed glass, screaming, And three got knocked out, Biff! Bam! Bop!

And I thought that I surely was dreaming, When the owner himself piled on top.

The summer—no sweeter was ever; The nights you need never come home; A skinny dip in the river; Solstice on top of the Dome.

The winter: the urges that blind you; The rumours that no one forget; The whispers that follow and find you; The conscience that makes you regret.

The ones that are older than history: The ones that you know aren't that young, The ones whose strong chin seemed a mystery. I'd undo it all, but it's done.

In this town, there is no one who's nameless, Though you take things as far as you dare. There are wives that are erringly aimless, But I've learned, better not to go there.

Guys like me are a dime for a dozen, And I thought I'd got lucky with Lou*. But she's cougar if ever there was one, And I know I ought not, but I do.

She's making my money diminish. I'm sick of my double-edged luck. Thank god when the pogey's all finished, I'll be off to the mines in my truck.

I'll work, and you bet it's no damn joke; It's the bush, but it's not quite the moon. And it's better than me going flat broke, So I'm counting the days until June.

There are strange things we do here in Dawson,

There's mistakes made again and again. There are things that are better forgotten; There are choices that fill me with shame.

*Lou is a character out of Robert Service's fiction. Any resemblance to other Dawson characters, real or imagined, is unintended.

A Tree for the Hospital Story & Photos by Dan Davidson

The tree was decorated with hand made ornaments at a special assembly on Friday afternoon (Dec. 6).

New health facility opens to serve people of the Dawson City area

WHITEHORSE (December 8, 2013) —Dawson City residents had an opportunity to tour the new Dawson City Community Hospital and Health Services Facility on Saturday, before it begins to admit patients.

Premier Darrell Pasloski, Minister of Health and Social Services Doug Graham and Yukon Hospital Corporation chair Craig Tuton cut the ribbon to officially open the new facility.

"This is a time for celebration, for the people of Dawson City, for the Yukon Hospital Corporation and for Yukon as a whole," Pasloski said. "We are happy that this facility is complete and will begin welcoming patients soon."

Graham said the opening of the health care facility demonstrates the government's commitment to the community of Dawson City and the provision of quality health care to all citizens.

"I am pleased that this facility will house a range of healthrelated services, as well as acute care, which will further encourage collaborative practice among a variety of health care professionals," Graham said.

The new building has a comprehensive range of healthrelated programs and services under one roof. The hospital, located on the main floor, consists of six in-patient rooms, a fully equipped emergency room, and state of the art diagnostics including x-ray and a laboratory. It also houses the Dawson Medical Clinic and a retail pharmacy. The second floor is occupied by Dawson Community Health Centre programs and services such as visiting mental health and hearing service professionals, home care and public health units. Yukon Hospital Corporation Board chair Craig Tuton agrees the commitment to the community has been tremendous.

"The new Dawson City Community Hospital will be a huge asset to the community. Providing acute care closer to home supports the corporation's mission of excellent and safe patient care," Tuton said.

Murder Returns to Algonquin Bay

Crime Machine By Giles Blunt Vintage Canada 294 pages $19.95

There were four years and two unrelated novels between the death of Detective John Cardinal's troubled wife in By the Time You Read This and Crime Machine. It's not certain how long that time has been for Cardinal. In chapter 3 we learn that sometime after a six month stretch he decided to put the little house they had lived in together up for sale and moved into an apartment. He doesn't like the apartment, but it was enough un-Catherine to help him move on a bit. It was also rather un-Cardinal.

"At one time he might have thought himself an urban type, back when he was living in Toronto, but not anymore. Now he was just a man whose wife had died and who had trouble seeing much value in his leftover life."

If Cardinal seems a bit flat of affect in this story, I put it down to that. He and his usual partner, Detective Lise Delorme, have fallen into a pattern of platonic movie nights. Lise is perennially unlucky in love. I keep expecting something to develop here, but it's still too soon.

Cardinal had twinges of temptation back when Catherine was institutionalized, but when she recovered from her chronic depression, and before she was murdered, straying never seemed to enter his mind.

We don't start with Cardinal though. We start with Sam Doucette and Randall Wishart. Samantha would rather have the life of Loreena Moon, her comic book superhero creation. It would be better than attending art college and working at the diner on some evenings. Randall has a beautiful wife and promising real estate practice, but he also has a thing for gorgeous young Native girls, and lots of empty houses to meet them in.

If he and Sam hadn't met in the one on Island Road, and if he hadn't left before she did once they had completed their tryst, Sam would not have been there when the three other people arrived, would not have been in the house when the younger man shot the older couple and cut off their heads.

Sam managed to escape with just minor injuries. Her story is just one of the threads in this tale, but we do come back to her and her story has its own points of interest.

two detectives have each been handed cold case files to try and clear during a lull in more pressing criminal activity, but the discovery of two headless bodies in a vacant home proves to be a relief from what seems to be a fruitless task. One of Cardinal's files dates back to the 1970s and had been dredged through several times by other officers, but it finally turns out to have some bearing on a sudden spate of killings that seem to be tied together only by the sameness of their means and methodology.

What the police don't know is that a man who calls himself Papa, along with three young people he calls his family, has arrived in Algonquin Bay (which is based on North Bay, Ontario), and is using it as a base of operations.

Papa styles himself a survivalist, a libertarian freedom fighter against the corruption of the modern world, but what he does is take impressionable, troubled young people and turn them into extensions of his own twisted world view. They are his family, and he is training them. Part of the training involves throwing gravel into the gears of the society he hates by stealing and by mysterious, motiveless killings.

It's not a happy family. Papa holds them together by the sheer force of his charisma, which seems to be able to control all their impulses. His training is presented as a series of loyalty tests, moving from petty thefts to ATM robberies, and always culminating in a ritualistic murder.

Cardinal eventually learns something of Papa's modus operandi from a freelance journalist named Donna Vaughan, who has been tracking a series of seemingly unrelated, but very similar, killings for quite some time, and who turns up in the city once the news of the Island Road murders gets out. The pair end up having a brief fling, but the things get complicated and don't end well.

What seems like a rather slow investigation heats up rapidly during the last 60 or so pages of the book. Cardinal had a flash of inspiration that made me very glad I was reading an actual paperback book, because that made it so much easier to flip back through the pages and find out if I had it right at that point. Even then, I did not expect the twists that the last couple of chapters held.

I'm glad that Blunt has reopened this series, and I hope to see another installment sooner than this one appeared. According to his Wikipedia entry, I will soon get my wish.

Yukon premier to attend Mandela memorial

WHITEHORSE (December 8, 2013)— Premier Darrell Pasloski will be part of the delegation representing Canada at the memorial for former South African President Nelson Mandela.

The premier left Whitehorse on Saturday after opening the new Dawson hospital to join Prime Minister Stephen Harper and other members of the delegation in Ottawa. The group departs for South Africa on Sunday.

"It's a great privilege to represent Yukon people at a service of remembrance and celebration for one of the greatest leaders of our time," said Pasloski. "I am honoured to be able to help carry the condolences of Yukoners and all Canadians to Nelson Mandela's family, the people of South Africa and others around the world."

Harper invited Canadian premiers, as well as all former living prime ministers, to accompany him on this trip.

"Nelson Mandela inspired people around the world by setting an example of how to lead through a period of tremendous change," added Pasloski. "During his time as President of South Africa, he showed us how to effect change peacefully. By acting as he did, he saved lives and helped build South Africa into a better country for all its citizens. His sacrifice and dedication to the greater good is an example to us all."

The Prime Minister and his delegation will attend a memorial service on Tuesday, December 10, scheduled to be held in a soccer stadium on the outskirts of Johannesburg, as well as Mandela's lying in state on Wednesday, December 11, in Pretoria.

Yukoners can join other Canadians in expressing their thoughts and prayers by signing the book of condolences on the Government of Canada website at http://www.commemoration.gc.ca/index-eng.cfm.

THIS IS JUST MY OPINION

Santa Claus: Who or what does he really represent?

Here is a question which has been debated ever since the mythical Santa Claus first appeared on the Christmas scene. However, Santa Claus has undergone numerous styles and name changes throughout the passage of time. He first began as a very real, living person, as the Bishop of Myra during the fourth century, Nicholas made attempts to spread cheer, a little prosperity, and joy into the homes and lives of the poor and destitute within the Ukraine. He is credited with rescuing three boys, who were somewhat mischievous, from an irate innkeeper, and secretly putting three bags of gold into one home to prevent three ageing persons from starving. Even during this good man's life he was regarded by many as being a saint of the truest form. This man, this bishop was named Nicholas, whom we know today as St. Nicholas, the other name for Santa Claus, and is indeed the true origin of the Santa Claus we know today.

Throughout much of Europe today, he is still recognized as St. Nicholas, while in some countries he is known by various names, Kris Kringle, Sinder Klaus, the French call him Pere Nöel, in Sweden he is called Jul Tomten or Tomta Jubba; both of these names refer to a tiny old man who leaves gifts.

The name Kris Kringle is derived from the name "Christ Kindle" meaning Christ Child and it is He (The Christ Child) who delivers the gifts. So while all of the European Countries have various names for the deliverer of presents, they all represent the exact same person, Santa Claus. But how do we develop the name Santa Claus? The only name which even remotely comes close in pronunciation is the Dutch name, Sinder Klaus. But even this may have begun by a simple mispronunciation of the name Saint Nicholas. With an inability to properly say Saint this word can easily become Sinder then Santa. This same inability to properly say the name Nicholas could easily be phrased as Nicklas, later to Klas, then to Klaus, until finally we have Claus. Putting the two names together in this way we go from St. Nicholas to Sinder Nicklas, then to Sinder Klas, and to Sinder Klaus. Then it becomes Santa Klaus, until he becomes known today as Santa Claus, the name by which we know him today.

Clement Moore, in a diligent and wonderful attempt to create a special gift for his child at Christmas, undertook the writing of the very famous poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas". It is here that more of the legend was expanded. For the very first time he was described to have elfish features. For according to Mr. Clement Moore, he was "a little old driver so lively and quick" and "he was dressed all in furs and he had a round tummy which shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly." Then the poem continued by stating that this jolly man was in a sleigh which was pulled by eight "tiny" reindeer, which could actually fly, as they were able to go from the ground to the rooftops in a bound.

Just a few years later a popular beverage company decided that Saint Nicholas or Santa Claus would be a fantastic marketing promotion. Coca-cola began the manufacture and creation of the mythical Santa Claus into a huge Commercial icon. This is the Santa Claus who has been popularized over the past century.

But I am reminded of a wonderful little girl in New York City, near the turn of the last century, who wrote a letter to the largest newspaper in the USA at the time, The New York Sun. She was eight years-old and she believed in Santa Claus. Her friends teased her shamefully, and this "bullying" sent her home in tears. She reported her shame and hurts with her parents, who encouraged her to write a letter to the Sun. Her father stated quite plainly, "If you see it in the Sun, it must be true!" This gave the little girl hope and encouragement, and she wrote a letter to the editor, which was short but direct, consisting of just four lines. His response has been reprinted in newspapers all around the world every Christmas since then. The girl was named Virginia O'Hanlon, and the title of the Sun's Editorial, credited as being written by; Francis Pharcellus Church. The letter, untitled and unsigned has become famously known as "Yes Virginia, There Is a Santa Claus." Google it. (Al had the whole thing here, but we ran out of space. DD)

This is the Santa Claus that I choose to believe in: the Santa who is NOT THE PROPERTY of Corporations, the Santa who is NOT promoting commercialism, but the Santa who promotes Love, Joy, Hope and Peace, in the giving of gifts from the heart. Gifts of Love that have no expectation of return or profit. While Santa Claus has been used and abused by greedy proprietors of vast corporations, that is NOT who or what he truly represents. He represents in all TRUTH, the very first Christmas gift ever given, the Son of God, the child, Jesus Christ. It is also true that wise men brought gifts to this child, but they were NOT at the stable, they did not present their gifts to Jesus while He was yet in the manger. They went to the "house" of the child and there presented their gifts. Yet the principle is the same: to give without thought of personal gain.

Santa Claus is just a simple man who wishes to continue the tradition of giving without concerning himself about what he should receive as payment. Whether he be real or imagined, the spirit of giving freely, with Love, that IS Santa Claus. Do not prevent your children from believing in the man just because he has been altered by Corporate ideals. It is your responsibility to teach your children that if they believe in Santa, believe in the idea of giving without being concerned with what great and wonderful gifts they will receive. In this idea alone is the spirit of Love, Hope and Joy. It is my greatest desire, that the above letters be reprinted annually.

Of course, this is just my opinion, and merry Christmas to one and all.

May each of you share in the love, peace, joy and happiness this wonderful Christmas season has to offer all of us.

The Council and City Staff would like to wish everyone a safe and happy Holiday Season and a Happy New Year.

FIRE CHIEF'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

On behalf of the Officers and Firefighters of the Dawson City Fire Department I would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a safe and happy holiday season and remind everyone about the importance of safety at Christmas time.

- $\bullet$  Make sure all trees are kept away from heat sources such as heat vents, electric heaters, radiators, and fireplaces.
- It is very important to make sure your tree has a sufficient amount of water.
  - Never leave your home or go to bed without unplugging your tree lights.
  - Candles are not to be left unattended and must be extinguished properly.
- Never put wrapping paper, tree branches or needles in a fireplace or wood stove because rapid burning can ignite creosote in the chimney.

Always remember in case of fire, Get Out and Stay Out and never go back into a burning building.

Jim Regimbal, Fire Chief
